DEAR FAMILY & FRIENDS,

If a letter contains both information and personal messages...the personal part will need to be deleted in the name of space, so it sure would help if you could put your announcements, lineage, queries or news at the bottom of the page and mark for Packard's Progress, just so I'll know.

If you do not wish your return address to appear in the newsletter...please mark "NO ADDRESS", on the other hand, if you'd like, you may add your telephone number to your return address so others may call you, just say...Jeri, put my phone number on with my address & I will.

If you will please let me know if you've been helped by PAC. PRO., you would really make my day. If you think of something that you think might make a helpful or just interesting subject for an article, also let me know (?) JPS/ed

CASTLE GARDEN, THE FIRST OFFICIAL IMMIGRATION DEPOT IN AMERICA

BY Grace A. Loop

State Emigrant Landing Depot, Castle Garden, N. Y.

Vast tides of people traversed the seas to come to America where they hoped to find peace and new opportunities. Each immigrant had his own driving force, whether religion, political or economic adversity, which drove him from his homeland. They came from many lands, risking everything, in the belief that America was the golden dream of freedom and prosperity.

These voyages took weeks, but the indominate spirit of the people was kept through all the suffering and deplorable conditions. The ships were small and crowded, and the sea was often relentless in its fury. Passengers were often distressingly sick, and many perished. These intrepid people were our ancestors.

Immigrants arrived at various ports - New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Virginia, New Orleans, and the west coast. This is about the hundreds of thousands of immigrants who were landed at New York.

No official national immigrant ruling was clearly set forth in the early days of immigration. Before 1855, immigrants were landed at the docks on the East River or Hudson River. They were hustled off, with all their possessions, on the docks where they were abandoned. This was their welcome to the new world.

If no friend, or relative was there to meet them, they were at the mercy of unsavory characters who took advantage of these vulnerable newcomers. Many ruses were used to bilk them of their money. Lodging house "runners" lured them to bad lodgings where the rent was high. Belongings were often stolen, and unofficial railroad agents asked exorbitant prices for tickets to other places.

Little has been said about Castle Garden, which opened in 1855, as the first receiving station for immigrants in America. This was a functional place for immigrants which assured them of a decent and honest reception.

Originally built as a fort in 1807, Castle Garden was located on a small island a short distance from shore, at the southern tip of Manhattan. A timber causeway, with a drawbridge, connected the fort to the city.

At the end of the War of 1812, the fort was named Castle Clinton in honor of DeWitt Clinton, a former mayor of New York City, and later a governor of New York State.

In 1824, it was converted into an amusement resort, and the name was changed to Castle Garden. As a center for cultural and political activities, many memorable events took place there. The Marquis de LaFayette was welcomed officially in 1824; Morse demonstrated his telegraph there in 1842; Presidents honored there were President Tyler in 1847, and President Polk in 1848; P.T. Barnum presented the "Swedish Nightingale", Jenny Lind, in her 1850 American debut.

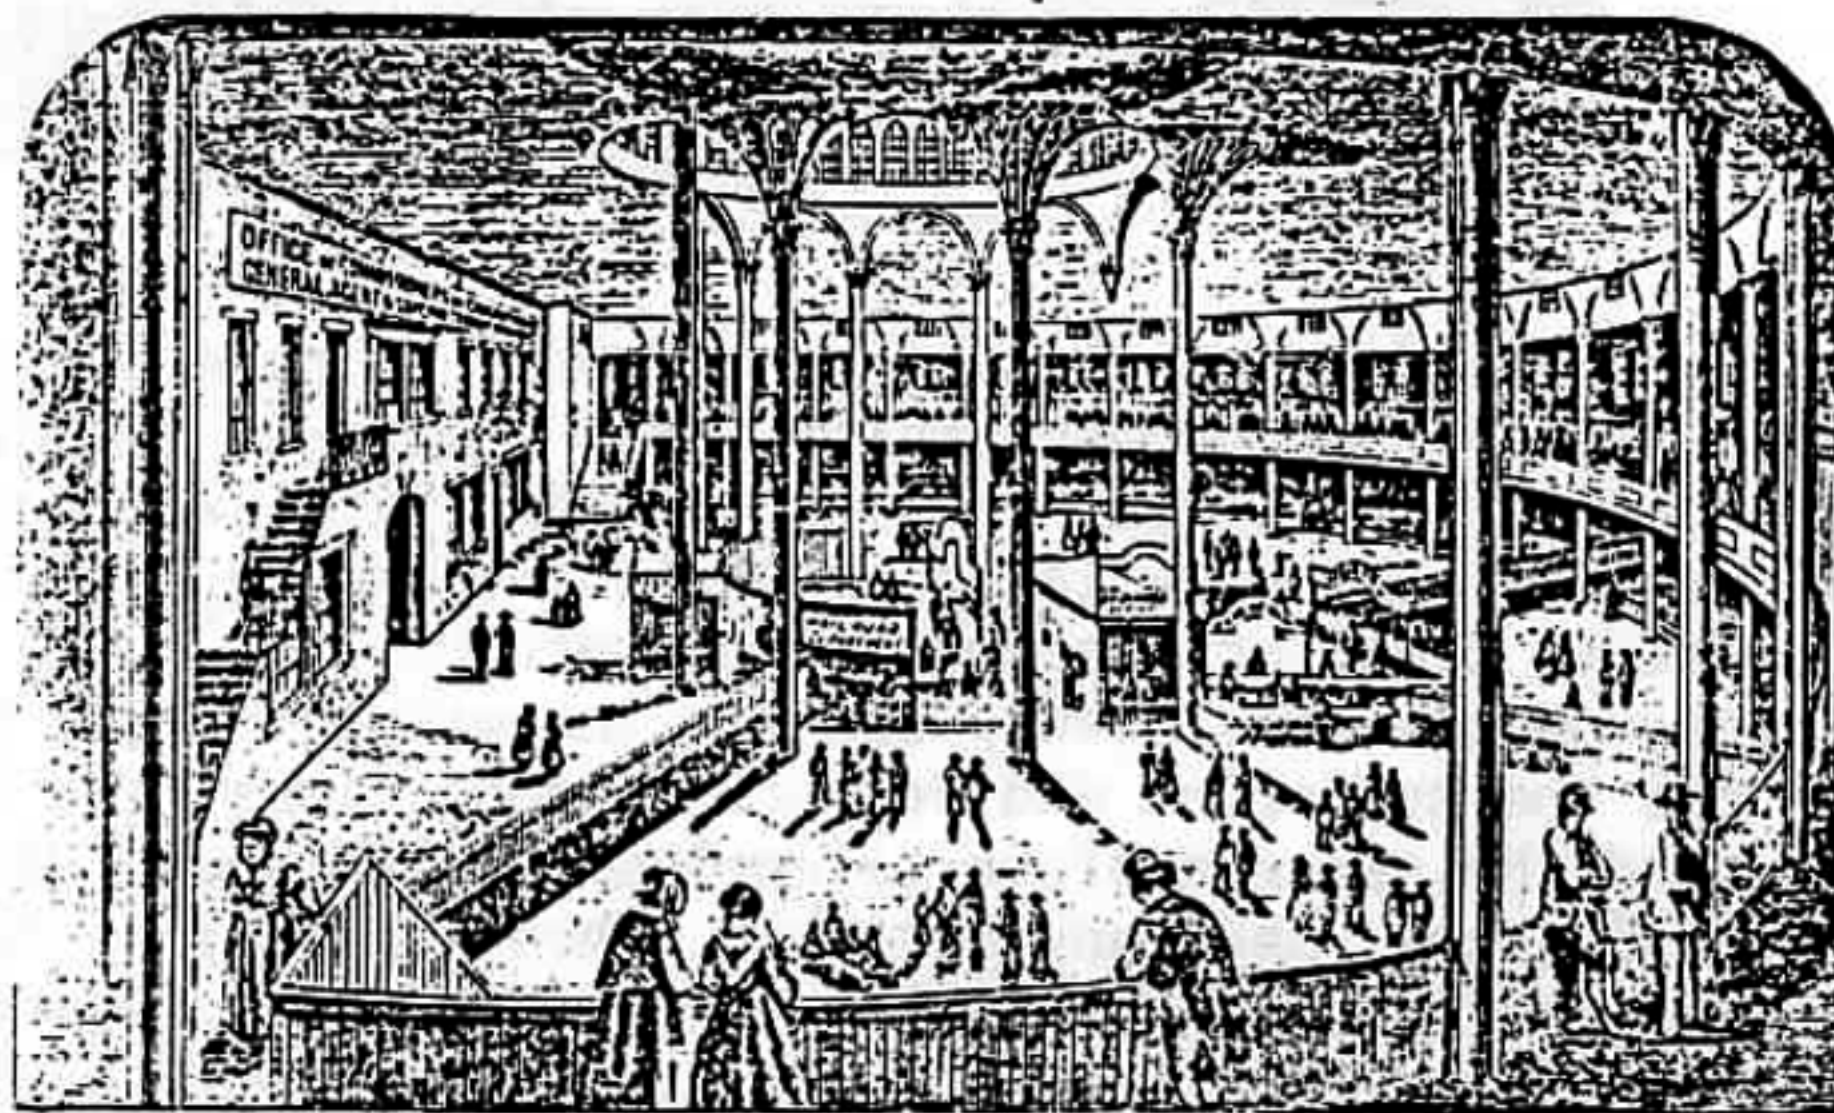

On August 3, 1855, Castle Garden opened its doors as the immigration center. Castle Garden had been joined to the mainland by fill, and fencing was built around the building, except facing the water. Inside was a quadrangular range of enclosed desks, erected almost in center, for clerks to solicit information.

Bathrooms were at the right and left of the main entrance, which were supplied with tanks capable of holding a depth of $3\frac{1}{2}$ feet of water. Wash basins were made like troughs, and a constant flow of water went into the tanks and basins. Proper toweling was provided.

The buildings erected near the gate were used as offices. Safe and speedy landing of passengers went into effect.

The operation expenses, as well as funds for the care of destitute immigrants, were to be covered by an immigrant poll tax, which at that time, amounted to $2.50.

Interior View of the State Emigrant Landing Depot, Castle Garden, N. Y.

Upon arrival each person was examined by a physician. Persons with serious, or infectious illness were sent to Ward's Island Immigrant Hospital on the East River.

After examination, people were brought to a large rotunda where they were registered as to name, nationality, former residence and intended destination. The interior of Castle Garden with its galleries and promenade were free to the immigrants until their departure.

By 1867, operation procedures were divided into twelve departments.

1. Boarding Department; officers went aboard the ship to ascertain the number of passengers, deaths during voyage, and prepare reports.
2. Landing Department.
3. Registry Department.
4. Agent of Railroad Companies.
5. The City Baggage Delivery Department.
6. Exchange Broker; currency exchanged for U.S. currency.
7. The Information Center; a waiting room was situated near the entrance gate where friends and relatives could meet the arrivals. Also, letters or funds which had been forwarded could be picked up by the arrivals.
8. The Letter Writing Department; clerks versed in foreign languages gave assistance to letter writing.
9. Boarding House Keeper; properly licensed by the Mayor and certified as responsible people, they were allowed to solicit for their boarding houses.
10. The Forwarding Department; received all letters and remittance sent to the immigrant prior to the arrival at Castle Garden.
11. The Ward Island Department; application for admittance to the hospital.
12. The Labor Exchange; this was a building erected on the grounds. They secured, without charge, employment for immigrants.

August 12, 1946, Castle Garden was declared the historic structure Castle Clinton National Monument. The basic structure was kept, and in 1975, Castle Clinton opened its doors.

I have pictured the myriad of people who arrived here from all corners of the world, as I have strolled around this brick edifice. This vast tide of people became good citizens of America. They brought with them all the hopes and dreams and these were extended to you and me. They were our progenitors - their courage and hopes became our life.

FROM THE DESK OF ALAN D. PACKARD

Several important breakthroughs on Packard Genealogy have taken place in the last few months:

A major find by Mrs. Jean D. Worden of 8580 Cheshire Ct., Franklin, Ohio 45005, connects the Gooding Packard line or as she found out the Mathew GOODING PACKARD line to Freeman William Packard and his wife Cynthia and their son, Lewis Packard (VT.) and his wife Emeline Crane who ended up in Conneaut, Ohio-this is one that many of us have been waiting for, for many many years !

Joy EVERETT PACKARD and wife Ruth BLYE PACKARD, 15 Lil Cub Path, Ormond Beach, Florida 32074 recently spent three weeks in England, visiting the old homestead in STONHAM ASPAL. Joy and Ruth were instrumental in putting together the heretofore unknown descent of CYRUS PACKARD and BETSY VICKERY who moved from New York to Michigan in the early 1800's. Their child William Henry Packard b. 1836 (Michigan) was the progenitor of his line.

Also, Douglas R. Packard 80003 Cabello Place, Kennewick, Wa. 99337...who was able to verify his descent from Lafayette Packard (b. 1825) St. Lawrence, New York and Amelia DOTY; CONGRATULATIONS DOUG !

My sincere appreciation to my dear husband, Chuck, who is financially underwriting the costs of this newsletter and helping too!

Also thanks to Evelyn Cross of Noblesboro, Maine, to Grace A. Loop of North Bergen, NJ & Norman A. Packard of Independence, Virginia (who've been so kind as to ease some of the "financial load" of this "family birthday gift". And to the rest of you for your kind moral support and your input to the information...herein...it helps!

SO HAPPY 349th BIRTHDAY FAMILY!

From Clifford C. Ham
3729 Parkview Avenue
Pittsburgh, Pa. 15213...we have

While on vacation, a few years ago, my wife and I came upon a gravestone which startled us.
We were walking on the Chilkoot Trail, out of Dyaa, Alaska (near Skagway) and there was a wooden marker with the following inscription:
WILBERT GARFIELD
beloved son of CHAS. E. and EMMA S.
PACKARD
Aged 16 yrs. 8mos. of Los Angeles

Wilbert G. Packard was one of sixty or more killed by an avalanche on Sunday morning, 3 April 1898, as they were attempting to cross from Alaska into British Columbia--and eventually to Dawson--and gold.
Marilyn and I have also visited some of the towns in Maine where our families lived... places like Hebron, Blanchard, Monson, etc. Marilyns line is: SAMUEL-ZACCHEUS-JAMES-REUBEN-ICHABOD-EPHRAM-JOSEPH BARROWS-HENRY BARROWS-EVERETT (last with the name PACKARD in her line), Marilyn m. Clifford Ham & have (12th gen.) Gregory & Jeffery.

Valerie A. Thomas
21 Mast Hill Road
Hingham, Mass. 02043....says (and she's correct).

(She's graduateing Simmons Graduate School & receives her MLS in Library Sciences... GOOD ON YOU...VALERIE !) It is not advisable to xerox your original photos, those dating back prior to 19th cen. as they are very unstable, particularly if you don't know the photographic process used. Valerie says "I have used my mothers Olympus OM-1 camera with a zoom lense feature. I also used color film instead of black & white, as b/w is hard to get processed now/days." Valerie also suggests you keep your new negative strips in your safe deposit box and work with the prints. All very good advice.
Thanks for the tips Valerie !

If you don't feel inclined to get into photographing your photos yourself, may I suggest a pro ? I've been using S & S Services, Archival Photography, P.O.Box 12876, St. Louis, Mo. 63141 (see advertisement in Gen. Help.) I send them a $20.00 order at a time and in 6wks. have my order and negatives..They even managed a print off a tintype, the picture was no longer visible. They can even put your photos on VCR for you.

Donald R. Morse
33 Custer Street
Brockton, Ma. 02401...sent this to me in 1986. He said.

I did some research into the PACKARD family of Brockton, discovered that Samuel had 12 children, and the descendants of Zaccheus(2) were quite well documented, some info on the descendants of Nathaniel (2), but that was about all. Zaccheus was the first settler in the north parish of Bridgewater in 1697.
Davis Snow PACKARD (7) was a shoe manufacturer, First president of the Brockton National Bank, one of the founders of the Brockton Agricultural Society, selectman, state representative, ect.
M.A. PACKARD (8) was a prominent shoe manufacturer, Frederick (8) was also a shoe manufacturer, founder of what is now FIELD & FLINT, manufacture of golf shoes,

(Mr. Morse...Cont'd)

Sidney (8) was a box manuf. (that makes good common sense...if you have shoe makers makers in the family, a box maker sure couldn't hurt! jps/ed.).

I'm sorry that I could find nothing on the Samuel (1) Samuel (2) line.*

If you could let me know when you would be coming to Brockton, I'll do what I can to show you any places that I know of.

Here, Mr. Morse gives his telephone number & his available times during the year & adds. M.A. PACKARDS home is now a funeral home.

Sidney Packards home is still in existence.

*Samuel (1) 9/16/12 m. Elizabeth ~~STREAM~~
d. 4/07/1684

Samuel (2) 1641 m. Elizabeth LATHROP
d. 7/7/1697 1678/9

Samuel (3) 1680 m. Elizabeth EDSON
d. 12/22/1749- 5/24/1705

Thank you Mr. Morse, this is appreciated & we were planning a trip early this year, but our daughter decided to marry early in the year rather than in October, as she first planned, so like those "best laid plans of mice & men..." we had to change ours.

WRITES...

IT WOULD BE INTERESTING TO FIND SOME-ONE ELSE WORKING ON MY PACKARD LINE THROUGH*ABIGAIL WHO MARRIED JOSEPH BAILEY. A WOMAN WHO IS NOW DEAD WORKED ON THIS LINE IN THE 50 AND 60s, BUT I KNOW OF NO ONE OTHER THAN MYSELF WHO IS CURRENTLY WORKING ON THIS LINE. ABOUT THE WIFE OF SAMUEL PACKARD, I HAD NO LAST NAME FOR HER SO I WOULD LIKE TO KNOW WHERE THE STREAM NAME WAS FOUND. ALSO, I WOULD LIKE A HOWARD CONTACT.

I AM LOOKING FORWARD TO FUTURE CORRESPONDENCE.
